SILBERTCHAIN

1. Use of the Website

1.1. Similar to most websites, SilbertChain.com gathers non-personally identifying information that is made available by web browsers and servers. This information includes browser type, language preference, referring site, and the date and time of each visitor request. The Company's objective in collecting this data is to gain insights into how visitors utilize the Website.

1.2. The Company collects potentially personally-identifying information such as Internet Protocol ("IP") addresses. Please be assured that the Company does not disclose potentially personally-identifying information, except under the same circumstances in which it uses and discloses personally-identifying information, as described below.

1.3. Some visitors to the Website choose to engage with it in ways that necessitate the Company to gather personal information, depending on the nature of the interaction. This may involve users who register with an account, providing an email address and other personal identity information. In each instance, the Company only collects such information as is necessary or appropriate to fulfill the purpose of the visitor's interaction with the Website.

2. Collection of Data Records

2.1. The Client acknowledges and agrees to the Company's personal information terms in their entirety and without exceptions upon registering. The relevant Terms and Conditions of the Company include the provision of security for personal information provided to SilbertChain. However, this does not guarantee that the Company will not disclose data from any person or agency, whether public or private, if the Company deems it necessary or has a legal obligation to do so.

2.2. The Company solely utilizes the collected information, documents, and data for reference purposes. The required information that the Client must provide includes, but is not limited to, full name, address, contact number, and email address. All collected data and information are securely stored by the Company for a period of five (5) years.

2.3. In certain instances, the Company may require additional personal information from the Client, depending on the nature of the appeal or use. These additional personal details may include, but are not limited to, social security number, account number, or mortgage and health information. The Company may also collect information regarding the Client's appointment on the website for security purposes.

2.4. For a comprehensive understanding of the types of information and data that the Company collects, please refer to the official documents of the Company: Privacy Policy & Terms and Conditions: Chapter 5. Information and Data.

3. Cookies on the Website

3.1. The Company utilizes cookies to gather data that enhances the Clients' trading experience. Cookies are small files that are stored on the Client's device from their web servers.

3.2. Cookies enable the Company to track the Client's website access, pages visited, and login status.

3.3. The Company ensures that cookies and other collected data from the website are kept private and will not be shared with third parties.

3.4. Cookies do not contain any account or password information, and the Company does not collect data on other websites visited by the Client.

3.5. The Client has the ability to manage their allowed and blocked cookies through their web browser. By accessing the Company's website, the Client acknowledges and agrees to the terms, conditions, and associated risks. It is important to note that blocking cookies may result in certain functions being defective or not working as intended, although the Client can still utilize the Company's services.

4. Security of Information

4.1. The Company employs advanced security software, systems, and procedures to ensure that our valued Clients enjoy a safe and secure trading environment. Additionally, we utilize state-of-the-art Secure Socket Layer ("SSL") encryption technology to safeguard all information provided through our website. Rest assured, we have implemented robust security measures to protect your personal, financial, trading, and investing data.

4.2. Despite our utmost efforts to safeguard your information, we must emphasize that we cannot guarantee the absolute privacy of all collected information or private communications.

4.3. It is important for the Client to acknowledge that the Company cannot be held liable in the event of any unlawful interception or unauthorized access to transmissions or private communications by third parties. By utilizing our services, the Client is presumed to understand and accept this inherent risk.

4.4. The Company places the highest priority on the security and integrity of our information and data, including those obtained from our esteemed Clients. We employ cutting-edge encryption techniques to ensure end-to-end transaction security. However, we must emphasize that we cannot guarantee the complete invulnerability of these data against unauthorized access or potential hacks.

5. Information Disclosure

5.1. The Company does not sell, license, lease, or otherwise disclose the Client's personal information to any third party or affiliate unless it is deemed necessary.

5.2. The Company reserves the right to disclose the Client's information if it is required to provide the requested service or product, or to offer the Client an opportunity to participate in the products or services provided by the Company's affiliates.

5.3. General information about the Client may also be disclosed to affiliates who assist the Company in operating the website, conducting business, or servicing Clients.

5.4. Under certain circumstances, the Company may disclose information to third parties, regulatory bodies, law enforcement, or other government authorities if required by law.

5.5. Additionally, the client's information may be disclosed in the following instances:

- If it is necessary to comply with a legal obligation.
- If it is required to protect and defend the Company's rights or property.
- If it is necessary to ensure the safety of other Clients.
- If it is needed to protect the Company's service or product.
- If it is necessary to investigate suspicious trading and funding activities.
